Principal's Message

A huge thankyou must go to all parents, family and friends who came along to school last week to make our Book Week activities such a huge success. Your children always enjoy your presence at school. After an error with books issued, Scholastics have extended our Bookfair till Thursday of this week. If you are yet to visit, come along and check out the fair in our school Library from 8.30-9.00am and 2.30-3.00pm

It is great to see our school Facebook page up and running. You will see current classroom activities, sometimes as they are happening, with teachers uploading events throughout the day.

This Thursday sees our older students participate in the Oztag Gala Day. Information and permission note was issued last week. It should be a fun day of fitness for our children. Good luck and enjoy!!!

This week I will be participating as a Peer Principal Panel Member for the External Validation process for two central coast schools. This will take me out of the school on Tuesday and Thursday. You will be able to contact me through the school office if necessary.

This is a reminder that this weekly newsletter continues to be distributed on a Tuesday. You should not expect to receive an electronic copy until Tuesday afternoon

PBL

Our PBL data continues to impress. Our staff regularly participates in professional learning and data analysis to ensure our strategies are aligned to our school needs. Currently staff are working on the next level of implementation.

Peer Support

This week the Peer Support groups will be working on the groups expectations. These will be based around respectful, responsible and safe behaviours. Peer leaders will be participating in a survey to determine the effectiveness of the program.

"Star of the Week"

Our Week 7 "Star of the Week" is Matthew Wellings. Matthew is in Year 6 and has shown steady improvement in all areas. Matthew is demonstrating that he is getting ready for high school next year with his increased application in class and also showing responsibility to take on leadership roles. A recent piece of writing demonstrates his use of many correct writing conventions.

K/1 News

On Friday 26th August our school had an Open Classroom session. It was great to see so many parents come into our school to observe our students at work. Our clever K/1 students conducted their Reading Warm Up and were able to demonstrate their knowledge of single sounds, digraphs, trigraphs, blends, syllables, reading fluency, segmenting and blending, tracking, sight words and more! After the warm up the students proudly showed their parents our classroom learning environment- where they sit, some of their workbooks and how far they have progressed in their reading. Well done K/1 and thank you to the parents for visiting our classroom.

2/3 News

Last week, students from 2/3 presented their Olympic projects based on a sport from the Rio Olympics. I was extremely impressed with every student for researching and presenting very informative and interesting projects. Students also completed peer assessments during the presentations and they all demonstrated their ability to provide positive and practical feedback to their classmates.
